

Dear Jordanas

You have just got to go to the library and get Lilly's Purple
Plastic Purse!

It is a really good book. It teaches a really good lesson. You could read it to your little brother and sister.

It's about a girl named Lilly who got a purple, plastic purse and really badly wants to show
it. But she gets a note sent home, because she actually did not listen to the teacher. She showed instead of listening. I'm not ~~g~~onna tell you what happens but don't you think your sister and brother need that lesson? Doesn't your brother always call out?

Also the pictures are really cool. They have lots of other lessons in them just by looking at them. There are words and speech bubbles in pictures too!

I know your parents would love you to read it to your sister and brother

Sincerely,
Yael
